READY!

This is the Position of Congress.

Both Houses Elect Their Officers and Organize to Transact Public Business.

Senator Voorhees Notifies Congress of the Death of Mr. Hendricks—

FORTY-NINTH CONGRESS

Meets and Organizes at the National Capitol.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The senate was called to order at 12 m. After prayer, Mr. Edmunds nominated Senator Sherman for president of the senate. Mr.
Voorhees moved to substitute the name of Harris. The yeas and nays were then ordered upon Mr. Voorhees' motion. It was lost by a strict party vote. Whereupon Mr. Sherman was elected without further division. Mr. Sherman said, in taking the chair, that in common with all people of the United States, he felt a profound sorrow for the sudden death of
of the vice president, who by the constitution is also declared to be president of the senate. In accepting the position assigned him he felt there were many senators on either side of the house more able to discharge the duties of his position, more experienced in the rules and orders of the senate than himself, still he had a sincere desire that he might be able to enforce the rules with kindness and impartiality, so as to ascertain, if possible, the sense of the majority and give the minority its full constitutional right and protection. He appealed to each individual senator for his courtesy and forbearance. Committees were appointed to notify the president and the house of representatives of the organiza-
of Mr. Edmunds, at 12:25 the senate took a recess of half an hour to await the organization of the house.

Mr. Cullom presented the credentials of Mr. Logan's re-election, from Illinois;
Mr. Pike presented those of Mr. Blair, from New Hampshire. The credentials were read and both were sworn.

Twelve o'clock, noon, was fixed as the hour for the daily meeting. Senators Edmunds and Harris were appointed a committee to join such committee from the house to wait upon the president and inform him that a quorum of each house was assembled and that congress was ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make.

At 2:40 p. m. the senate was called to order. The clerk of the house of representatives sent a message from that body announcing the election of its speaker and clerk and the appointment of a committee to wait upon the president in conjunction with a committee already appointed by the senate.

Mr. Voorhees then offered the following resolution, prefacing it with the remark that in doing so he was performing the saddest duty of his public life:

Resolved, That the senate has received with profound sorrow the intelligence of the death of Thomas A. Hendricks, late vice president of the United States, and for a number of years a distinguished member of this body.

Resolved, That, the business of the senate be suspended in order that the eminent public services and representative virtues of the deceased may be appropriately commemorated.

Resolved, That, the secretary of senate be directed to communicate these resolutions to the house of representatives.

Mr. Voorhees asked that the resolutions be permitted to lie on the table subject to be called up at a future date of which the senate should have timely notice. The resolutions were accordingly laid on the table.

Mr. Harrison then moved an immediate adjournment of the senate out of respect to the memory of the late vice president. The motion was agreed to

THE HOUSE.

At noon the house was called called to order by J. B. Clark, its clerk, who called the roll of the members elect.
The call disclosed the presence of 320 members, the only absentees being Mil-
Carolina; Aiken, of South Carolina; Cary, of Texas; and Croxton, of Virginia.
Mr. Tucker presented the name of James G. Carlisle, of Kentucky, for speaker.
Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, nominated

Thomas B. Reed, of Maine. The result of the vote was: Carlisle, 177; Reed, 138.
Messrs. Tucker and Reed escorted the speaker to the chair.

The names selected by the democratic caucus for officers of the house were presented by Mr. Tucker, while Mr.
Cannon moved to amend by substituting the names chosen by the republican caucus. The amendment was rejected and the gentlemen named in Mr. Tucker's resolution were elected by a viva voce vote.

On taking the chair, Mr. Carlisle made a brief speech, in which he ac-knowledgeed the magnitude of the compliment bestowed upon him and promised that to the fullest extent of his ability the law governing the proceedings of the house shall be evenly administered.
Messrs. Blount Randall and Reed, were appointed a committee to act with the senate committee to wait upon the president.

The presidential appointments made during the summer recess are required by law to be sent to the senate for confirmation thirty days after the assemblage of congress, and the consideration of these nominations will probably consume the larger part of the time of the senate during the early weeks of its session.

Phil Sheridan.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Gen. Phil Sheridan and Inspector Gen. Baird arrived in the city last evening and will leave for Washington to-day.

Mr. John T. Rodabaugh, the Attorney, Divorced From His Wife.

This morning Mr. John T. Rodabaugh, the attorney, appeared in the court with an application for divorce from his wife, Lucy Rodabaugh, formerly a pupil at the Conservatory of Music.
The matter did not go through the usual process, but this may have been obviated by the fact that Mr.
Rodabaugh once before filed a petition for separation from the same woman. At any rate Judge O'Rourke heard the evidence of Mr. Rodabaugh, who calmly stated that his wife was unfaithful to her marriage vows and cruel to him. Mrs. Rodabaugh was not present nor was she represented, evidently desiring to offer no resistance to the determination of her husband. The case promised rich at first, when a contest was threatened, as the complaint, which is said to be racy, implicated others in this domestic brawl. Mr. and Mrs. Rodabaugh have been married something like two years, the woman being Mr. Roda-baugh's second wife.

THE WABASH

Has a Fretful Time With Its Indianapolis Division.

"What is the exact relation between the Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago, and the Wabash?" was asked of Trustee Davis.

"The Wabash operates the road for us, but we are co-equal with it in the management. E. N. Scott, general agent of the bond holders of the three divisions of the road, comprising the line from Michigan City to Indianapolis, is equal with Superintendent Stevens, of the Wabash, for an agreed price, and are operating the three divisions of the road between Michigan City and Indianapolis independent of all other lines and relations. The probabilities are that when we obtain a final decree early in the next year, that the three divisions will be bought in by the bondholders and consolidated. The interests of the three roads are so intermingled that consolidation will be the natural course to pursue and can be accomplished without difficulty."

"In case the bondholders buy up the road (as they will do at foreclosure) and consolidate their interests, will the present relation between the Wabash
be continued?"

"No; there will be no connection between the two whatever."

To-morrow will be a Catholic holiday of obligatory observance, being the feast of the Commemoration of the Immaculate Conception. Early services at all the Catholic churches of the city will be at 5:30 a. m. At the Cathedral Rt. Rev.
Bishop Dwenger will officiate at 10:30 and one of the Cathedral clergy will preach.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—A northwest blizzard struck the city about half past 1 o'clock this morning. Ten minutes before that hour, the sky was perfectly clear and the weather tranquil with the thermometer at about freezing point.
The wind, which blew at the rate of fifty miles per hour was accompanied by a blinding snow fall. The thermometer ranged quickly into the twenties. The snow soon abated, but the wind continued very high.

A dispatch from Boston says that Captain Martin, keeper of the Minots Ledge light house was able to leave his post yesterday for the first time since the great storm of last week. No other light house in the world is so much exposed to the mercy of the sea and wind.
nearly 200 feet above the waves and yet the tremendous seas last week dashed fifty feet above the peak.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—The frightful gale that swept the lakes Friday night, was followed yesterday by another almost equal in violence which is still raging this morning. The few vessels arriving report an unusually severe trip. In each case they were covered with ice from stem to stern and their crew work out.

The signal service reported the temperature at one degree below zero at 8 o'clock this morning, while other reports make a temperature from eight to ten degrees below zero. The weather was bitter and rough for all purposes in any event. The temperature at Winnipeg was twenty below zero; St. Paul, four-
buque, six below.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 7.—The storm
of the past two days has been almost unparalleled in its severity. The propeller Shornia, reported wrecked, is safe at Black river, twenty miles above Cleveland, where she ran in for shelter. The steamer City of Detroit, on her way up from Cleveland, encountered a storm that raked her from stem to stern. Her bulwarks were stove in and at times the men stood in five feet of water. All the windows and doors in the cabin were broken and the floors were flooded several times. Propeller Oconto, due here Saturday afternoon has not yet been heard from. She carried a crew of from thirty to forty-five men and had not more than ten or twelve passengers.

Archbishop Purcell's Estate.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 7.—It is stated that since the report of Assignee John B.
Mannix was published in the case of Archbishop Purcell's estate, the discovery has been made that the value of the property has decreased about $200,000 through unfortunate investments in stock. Not the slightest blame attaches Mr. Mannix, who acted under instructions of the probate court. The stock which caused the heaviest loss was that of the Cincinnati Southern Railroad Company, a large quantity of which was purchased by order of court at par, and afterward sold down as low as 30 per cent. There is considerable feeling manifested among the creditors here,
and some action will probably be the outcome of the above statement.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 7.—The oil mills of I. P. Mills & Co., located at the intersection of of South Delaware street and the Union railway tracks, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The mills contained about 100,000 bushels of flax seed, 25-000 gallons of oil, and a considerable quantity of oil cake. A stiff gale was blowing from the west, causing the fire to burn with great fierceness, and for a time there was danger of the flames spreading to adjoining property, in which event a great conflagration would
part of the firemen, several of whom
confined to the building in which they originated. The loss will closely approximate $150,000, on which there is insurance of $115,000.

TEMPERANCE.

trict W. C. T. U Convention.

Twelfth district, W. C. T. U. convention, was held at South Whitley, on November 18 and 19 and was called to order by the president, Mrs. Shulze, of Kendallville, but in consequence of the unfavorable state of the weather but

most of the time was very profitably spent in a devotional service conducted by Mrs. Omo, of Maysville, then followed the appointing of the usual committees, which closed the forenoon session.

In the afternoon there was a fair representation from the different parts of the district, which with the visitors made a good audience, and after the devotional exercises led by Mrs. Graham, of Columbia City, a cordial address of welcome was given to the delegates by Mrs. Remington, of South Whitley, which made them all feel at home, and was responded to by Mrs. Carnes, of La Grange, in a very interesting and convincing measure.
presidents, local unions and district officers, and their summary in the various lines that had been taken up by the districts and planned by the organization,
on the advance during the past year.

Miss Swayne, the former president, who had worked so faithfully in organizing the district, and who was obliged to resign her position as president a year ago on account of ill health, was present and took an active part, and all were glad to hear the sound of her voice again. The evening service begun with appropriate songs by the choir, rendered in an admirable manner; Scripture reading by Mrs. Rupert, of Fort Wayne, and prayer by Mrs. Carson, of Liberty Mills. After which the Band of Hope gave several recitations and about thirty sang the song, "I will Try to Do the Right," very nicely. Then the state president, Mrs. Nichols, gave an address on the "Objections to License," which
was one hour in length and full of sound arguments and truths that could not be denied. The session then closed by singing the doxology and benediction by the pastor.

Thursday morning, after devotional exercises by Mrs. Carnes, of Lagrange, and all miscellaneous business had been disposed of, the election of officers for the
follows: President, Miss Hayden, of Lar-will; secretary, Mrs. Ross, of Kendall-ville; treasurer, Mrs. Fletcher, of Wol-cottville. The two last were re-elected.
After endorsing the resolutions the convention closed with singing and prayer.
The convention was held in the M. E.
pastor, gave his hearty co-operation and
staunch temperance man, and the good people of South Whitley will long be remembered for their kindness in entertaining the delegates so hospitably.

M. A. O.

A Kicker From Away Off.

"Mr. J. V. Sweetser, of Marion, passed through the city one day this week en route to Fort Wayne, where he was going for the purpose of defending himself against an assessment of $13,000, made against him as the owner of 433 acres of land lying within the boundaries of the Little River prairie, an immense tract of land which it is proposed to render tillable by cutting a big ditch which shall drain it into Little river.
Mr. Sweetser said he would gladly give the land for a full release from the assessment, as it was doubtful, even should
the ditch prove adequate to the work expected of it, whether the land when drained could be sold for a sum sufficiently large to cover the assessment,"

Long Out in Illinois.

"You remember Mason Long, the man in the big wagon, who claimed to be a reformed gambler, of Fort Wayne, and who sang on street corners and preached on temperance, righteousness and judgment to come—and sold a book? Well, I thought him a fraud. So perhaps did you. But he took hold by the heart strings of one old citizen who has been a hard drinker for years, a bad drinker.
He never had been reached by the churches, because he could not be got
to listen; but he heard Long, was convinced, convinced, resolved and for the
sober life; his old time look, clear complexion, bright eye is coming back; his
from worse than death; he is following his trade—he is a splendid blacksmith—and may God bless him and renew
daily the noble courage in the old man and deliver him safe from the old course. As for Mason, Long may he wave!" says the Geneva, (Ill.) Patrol.

"I have been selling considerable Athlophoros this fall and winter. I find that it gives good satisfaction and in one
experience with this great remedy for
Eldora, Iowa.

TORONTO, Dec. 7.—The through passengers east from Winnipeg, arriving here last night by the Canadian Pacific road, brought the details of a terrible railway accident that happened to the train by which they were travelling. On Friday last, upon nearing Luddburg junction the rails spread, causing the
thrown down a deep embankment. The stoves being overturned set fire to all the cars, most of which were well filled with passengers, many of them being asleep at the time. The passengers escaped although many were injured and very seri-
train is a complete wreck. The passengers were saved from being frozen to death by keeping near the burning

Lake City.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

OMAHA, Dec. 7.—General Howard, early yesterday morning, received confidential orders to dispatch troops from Fort Omaha to Salt Lake City, Utah, on the old Pacific road. He accordingly sent out a special train with batteries B and C of fifth artillery, and placed in readiness for marching orders ten companies of infantry and one of cavalry. The troops at Fort Robinson have been ordered to move westward. An outbreak was anticipated among the Mormons, who were incensed at the shooting of one McMurtry by Deputy United States Marshal Collins. Collins was instrumental in punishing Mormons and they sought to kill him with the result

A latter dispatch from Salt Lake City says: "All is quiet, and there is no probability of trouble. The precautions for the preservation of life and property are ample as the troops stand in the city.
The action of Governor Murray and General Crook, in reporting the threatening situation here, and getting authority to station troops in the city, have removed all apprehension for the present.
McMurtry, who was supposed to be fatally shot by Deputy Marshal Collins, is recovering."

A Big Fire—Accidents.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Shortly after midnight a fire was discovered in Cribben &

Loss, $200,000; fully insured.

Two accidents occurred. When the rear wall fell into the alley John Hannon and Ed Cudmore, both firemen, were injured, the latter suffering a fracture of the leg.

A LEVEL-HEADED NEWSDEALER.

Newsdealers are as a class popularly supposed to know a good thing when they see it, and are ever on the lookout for that which will interest and please the public. In a humble way Edison was once a newsdealer, having sold papers on railroads. Among newsdealers who have a keen eye to business and to everything that can be of benefit to Mr. G. W. Dove, of Vincennes, Ind., whose place of business is at No. 114 Second street, Mr. Dove was recently afflicted with rheumatism, but quickly cured himself by using Athlaphoros. This is what he says about it:

"Athlaphoros is a good medicine and it did for me all that I could ask. At the time when I began using it I was sadly afflicted with rheumatism. I was in a helpless state and suffered untold pain, not being able to get out of bed or to be moved without enduring the greatest agony. I had read some time before of the wonderful cures of people effected by Athlaphoros, and at the time tried to buy it at the drug stores, but could not find any. As I was determined to try it I sent to the company for some."

"Did it act quickly upon you?"

"I felt the effects almost immediately. After I had taken a few doses the pain subsided. The medicine seemed to go directly where the pain was."

"Have you had any return of the pain?"

"I have not suffered any to speak of since. I used only three bottles and consider it the best medicine for rheumatism that I know of. I recommended it to a gentleman in St. Louis who had his mother use some and was very much pleased with the result. I have recommended it to different persons, and in every instance where it was used it gave entire satisfaction."

J. A. Wilson, the well-known photographer, 6 and 8 Main St., New Albany, tells an equally interesting story of how Athlaphoros cured him of rheumatism:

"I only used one bottle," he says. "The rheumatism was in my arms and I had sharp, shooting pains. I was suffering and complaining a great deal, when a friend coming into my gallery one morning asked me what the trouble was. I said it was rheumatism. Said my friend: 'I was reading of a medicine that is for the cure of rheumatism and neuralgia. It struck me forcibly, as it did not claim to cure every complaint that flesh is heir to.' When I asked him what it was he said the name was Athlaphoros. I bought a bottle on the strength of what he said. That was all I needed. I used the one bottle over six months ago and have not had a pain or an ache from rheumatism since."

From Greencastle, Ind., D. L. Southard has this to say of what Athlaphoros did for him:

"When Bishop Bowman brought me a bottle of Athlaphoros I was suffering greatly from rheumatism and could scarcely move. I began taking the medicine on Thursday morning. At 9 P. M. I went to sleep and slept until 6 o'clock Friday morning, when I got up and said to my wife: 'Dear, look here, I am well.' At the first I was so much better that I stopped using the medicine and the rheumatism came back. The second attack was not stopped so easily, but still in double the time the Athlaphoros removed the pain. The medicine had no unpleasant effect, but seemed to quiet, soothe and give relief."

If you cannot get Athlaphoros of your druggist, we will send it express paid on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLAPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

MONDAY, DEC. 7, 1885.

THE presidency of the senate is the only thing General Logan ever refused.

THERE are 421 boys in the Indiana reform school and most of these incorrigible lads came out to live good lives.

LOTTA, Mary Anderson, Emma Nevada and Marie Wilton are all communicants of the Roman Catholic church.

THE late vice president paid taxes on an appraisement of $85,080, of which $8,813 was personal and the remainder realty. His estate is valued at $100,000.

UNCLE SAM has eighty new buildings in course of erection throughout the country, which it is estimated will cost eight and a half million dollars. Last year nearly two and a half million dollars were expended.

A MASS meeting will be called at Shelbyville to take steps to erect an appropriate monument to the memory of the late vice president. The intention is to place the monument in the center of the public square, at Mr. Hendricks' old home.

THE Huntington council proposes to adopt an electric light for that town and it seems the Jenny patent is in favor with the village authorities. The light has been thoroughly tested here and THE SENTINEL can recommend it to our neighbors.

THE Wabash river has been declared navigable beyond Lafayette, and the major of the corps of United States engineers has ordered the officials of Tippecanoe county to elevate the two wagon bridges across the river at that place or provide them with a draw.

THE gossip tells us that Sullivan, the pugilist, has made $157,000 since his first public exhibition as a prize fighter. Of this large amount he has saved only a few thousands, the remainder having been wasted in riotous living. He is now considering an offer of $100,000 for one year's service under the management of a well-known sporting man, who proposes to exhibit him in this country and Australia, Sullivan to put on the gloves with any man the manager may name.

An order has been made and will be rigidly enforced to exclude visitors from the new Indiana state house. The contractors are at times much annoyed by visitors and idle people, who interfere with the workmen, a very large force being employed at present. As the building has been inclosed and is kept heated, it is expected that there will be even a greater number of visitors during the winter than heretofore, and on this account the order has been issued, and the superintendent and watchmen given police power to enforce it.

This is pretty hard weather on the Journal. Its freight train "telegraph" comes with frost on its head, and subscription cord wood is summoned from the country to thaw the "pot metal" out. Occasionally the "dispatches" and "cable flashes" are snow bound at Abbot station, Coesee or some other thrilling "telegraph" station. Then a serial story, entitled "A Box of Plates," or "Seven Buckets of Lead," is sent out to chill the blood of the five and a half readers, who still relish reminiscences of canal speed and never saw a telegraph wire.

W. P. DAGGETT, an Indianapolis architect, accidentally caused the death of his boatman, Randolph Shepard, a young man, while duck hunting on Spring Lake, near Manitou, Ill., two weeks ago. Mr. Daggett was standing in the bow of the boat, and, winging one duck, whirled to shoot it, companion, and at the same instant Shepard, who was occupying the center instead of the stern, thrust his head within range and was instantly killed. The coroner's jury exonerated Mr. Daggett from blame, and the Pekin (Ill.) papers state that he defrayed all expenses, after which he gave away his hunting outfit with the determination to abandon field sports in the future. He is still very much depressed over the sad occurrence.

BISHOP BOGESS, of the Catholic diocese of Michigan, has promulgated a decree of interdiction against the riotous Polish Catholic church in Detroit. This effectively freezes out of the faith the riotous congregation, being practically a decree of outlawry. A decree of this sort has been resorted to less than a dozen times in the whole history of the church.

THE people of Wabash are no longer susceptible to surprises. The city treasurer and township "trustee" turned up 'defaulters for something like $6,000, last week. Lewis Goller, a baker of the suburban village, absconded with $2,000 cash and now Peter Christman, a merchant, fails for $15,000. Wabash is a republican hot-bed and the Gazette here used to quote it as an example of good government. The public officers down there own stock in newspapers and it is the boast of these official journals that a democrat has not held public office there in a quarter of a century.

THE footmen who wait solely upon the Queen of Sweden and her daughter wear a very quaint uniform, consisting of a tunic, a petticoat, and breeches edged with gold lace. Their attire includes a wonderful head-dress, consisting of a kind of embroidered skull-cap from which arises three ostrich feathers, none of which is less than three feet high. A newspaper correspondent had to hide himself under a table in order to sketch these magnificent flunkies at his leisure.

AN item is going the rounds to the following effect: "A Chinese banker, Han Qua, of Canton, is said to be the wealthiest man in the world. He pays taxes upon an estate of $450,000,000, and is estimated to be worth $1,400,000,000." Upon this statement George Francis Train comments thus in the New York Sun: "In a country where they use 1,600 coppers—cash, so called—to a dollar, larger coins are overestimated. A guest of old Howqua—not Han Qua—three decades ago at Canton, and later of his sons, I saw his wonderful gardens and beautiful grounds. He was a life-long friend of Russell & Co., leaving them untold sums. He was known as a friend of America. He may be worth $50,000,000—certainly not $1,400,000,000. History is a fearful liar."

DR. OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, genial as he is, does not altogether lay aside his professional character when he dons his literary garb. True to his interests as a "regular" medical man, he cannot refrain from giving a dig now and then at the brethren of the opposition schools. In his "New Portfolio," just closed in the Atlantic Monthly, one of the female characters, in speculating on the possibility of marrying a doctor, is permitted to say: "I don't know but I should be willing to let him try his medicines on me. If he were a homeopath I know I should; for if a billionth of a grain of sugar won't begin to sweeten my tea or coffee, I don't feel afraid that a billionth of a grain of anything would poison me—no, not if it were snake venom, and if it were not disgusting I would swallow a handful of his lachesis globules to please my husband. But if I ever become a doctor's wife my husband will not be one of that kind of practitioners, you may be sure of that, nor an 'eclectic,' nor a 'faith-cure man.'" The ruling medical passion seems as strong in age as in intolerant youth.

THE class of '87 of Cornell University, the members of the present junior class, have developed into genuine college martyrs. During their early days at Ithaca their class supper was stolen by the sophomores and eaten at Trumansburg. In their second year the immediately succeeding class captured the cane from them in the annual "cane rush," an unparalleled exploit, and it has just leaked out that their third year in the university is likely to prove as unfortunate for them as the previous two. Certain facts have come to light which tend to show conclusively that a party of Cornell men, representing for the most part the class of '87, were rather roughly handled while attending a party the other evening at a well-known mansion in Newfield. Several young men of that place, who, it seems, must have disliked the idea of having the Cornell students win from them the affections of the fair ones, managed to spirit away the carriages in which the students had driven up to Newfield, and, taking the vehicles, into a field near by, the wheels were removed and tied to trees in the immediate vicinity. The horses also disappeared, and, after several hours of search, one was found in a dilapidated cowshed on an adjoining farm. Upon the whole the Cornell men spent a busy night, and it is probable that the next party at the mansion alluded to will probably not have a representative from the university.

A Card From James Godfrey.

To the Editor of THE SENTINEL:
Will you please be so kind as to allow me space in your valuable paper. In Saturday's issue I read a little piece concerning Professor Anderson and myself. In all sincerity I never saw Mr. A. in my life and I disclaim all knowledge of the transaction between him and Mr. John Dreibels. I was not a party to the deception and fraud practiced upon the community. You misunderstood me. I disclaim all ownership to the house and lot, as it belongs to my mother. Had it belonged to me, I would have let the transaction pass with silent contempt.
Very respectfully yours, JAMES GODFREY.

Recent experiments show that if bags containing oil are thrown from a ship in a storm, the force of the waves is lessened. In the same way, St. Jacobs Oil checks the wave of rheumatism and brings peace where all is turmoil.

In the Dear Old Days.
We differ in creed and politics, but we are a unit all the same on the desirableness of a fine head of hair. If you mourn the loss of this blessing and ornament, a bottle or two of Parker's Hair Balsam will make you look as you did in the dear old days. It is worth trying. It is the only standard 50c article for the hair.

The highest quality of tobacco attainable, delicious flavor and purity combined, has fairly won for the Richmond Straight Cut Cigarettes the reputation of the best.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED.
Hypocrisy is the compliment vice pays to virtue. Imitation is the compliment failure pays to success. The name—not the character—of Benson's Capsule Plasters is imitated by unscrupulous parties, who make and try to sell plasters variously called "Capsicum," "Capicum," "Capsicine," "Capucin" plasters, with the manifest intention to deceive. So cunningly and boldly is this done that careless people are sometimes deceived into buying such articles in place of the genuine. Happily the number who follow this vocation decreases every year through the refusal of reputable dealers to handle the imitation goods, meanwhile be cautious. In the middle of the genuine is cut or perforated the word "Capsicum," and on the face cloth is the "Three Seals" trademark. Ask for Benson's—then examine. One Benson's is worth a dozen of any other kind. 30-4w

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. 1eod&wly.

LADIES, is life and health worthy preserving? If you think so, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. GIVE YOUR CHILDREN, for Coughs and Colds, Croup Whooping Cough and Hoarseness, Gilmore's Magnetic Elixir. CONTAGIOUS Diseases are prevalent all over the world.

I am a native of England, and while I was in that country I contracted a terrible blood poison, and for two years was under treatment as an outdoor patient at Nottingham Hospital, England, but was not cured. I suffered the most agonizing pains in my bones, and was covered with sores all over my body and limbs. I had vertigo and dizziness, with partial loss of sight, severe pains in my head and eyes, etc., which nearly ran me crazy. I lost all hope in that country, and sailed for America, and was treated at Roosevelt in this city, as well as by a prominent physician in New York having no connection with the hospital. I saw the advertisement of Swift's Specific, and I determined to give it a trial as a last resort. I had given up all hope of being cured, as I had gone through the hands of the medical men in Nottingham and New York. I took six bottles of S. S. S. and I can say with great joy that they have cured me entirely. I am as sound and well as I ever was in my life. L. FRED HALFORD.
New York City, June 12, 1885.

BLOOD

Is the life, and he is wise who remembers it. But in March of last year (1884) I contracted blood poison, and being in Savannah, Ga., at the time, I went into the hospital there for treatment. I suffered very much from rheumatism at the same time. I did not get well under the treatment there, nor was I cured by any of the usual means. I have now taken seven bottles of Swift's Specific and am sound and well. It drove the poison out through the bowels on the skin. DAN LEAHY.
Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 7, 1885.

Two years ago I contracted blood poison. After taking prescriptions from the best physicians here and at Dallas, I concluded to visit Hot Springs, and on reaching Texas, a doctor recommended me to try Swift's Specific, assuring me that it would benefit me more than Hot Springs. Although the had produced great holes in my back and chest, and had removed all the hair off my head, yet I began to improve in a week's time, and the sores began to heal and were entirely gone inside of eight weeks.

Water works pipes were frozen up in numerous places last night.

The water works trustees meet to-night and the city council meets to-morrow night.

Mr. Calvin Brice, of Nickel Plate fame, went via that road, yesterday, in a special car.

A gray horse dropped on Court street to-day and it required a derrick to put the animal on its feet.

The funeral of Mrs. Patrick McGee occurred yesterday afternoon and was very largely attended.

Miss Mamie Collins, of 31 Baker street, will shortly visit Florida, for her health, which is very poor at present.

Weighmaster Ryan collected $100.10 on the city scales for November and he has paid the amount to the city treasurer.

J. P. Fairley will open a new saloon at Rushville, this evening. Fred C. Boltz and Harry Hammill went down to see their friend.

There are no attractions at the Academy this week. The coming card is a glove fight, Dec. 18, and Whitfield bows to Fort Wayne Dec. 21.

There are more saloons than grocery stores and three times as many liquor places as there are dry goods and clothing stores in Fort Wayne.

Gust Fox, the gardener, will Jan. 1, engage in business with his brother, Mr. Louis Fox, whose cracker and candy manufactory has grown to mammoth proportions.

The will of John Baker was filed to-day. Mr. Baker lived at Monroeville and leaves his property to his sons, Francis M., Sylvanus T., Wm. D. and Simon S. Baker.

There were two drunks at police court this morning. Patrick Duffly got twenty days and James Ellison, a hostler, got ten days. Two tramps who would not leave town went over.

The Duly's gave an enjoyable show to rather poor business at the Temple, Saturday night. The conception is rather robust and borders on the variety, but it is clean and amuses for an evening.

"Mugs Landing" is the next attraction at the Temple. Miss Frances Bishop is the star, and as the play was seen here once before, it needs little explanation. The comedy-drama is booked for Friday evening.

The indications for the lower lake region, as reported by the weather bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL, are as follows: Fair weather, slowly rising temperature, westerly winds, becoming variable.

Marshal Meyer locked up eight tramps yesterday. The poor fellows were stiff with cold and one of them said he had eaten nothing for twenty-four hours. The marshal fed the unfortunates and turned them out to roam this morning.

It is announced that George McKinzie, a popular Fort Wayne boy, is soon to wed an accomplished young lady at Columbus, Ohio. George is connected with the Neal house, at Columbus, managed by his brother, Mr. Frank McKinzie.

The fire department had a cold run last evening. Old Wise, who keeps a junk shop in the east end and lives on the Maumee road, grew alarmed at a blazing chimney and called the fire men out there. They made the idle run, some of the men in their shirt sleeves.

To-morrow evening a meeting will be held at Masonic hall, in the MacDougal block, for the purpose of making arrangements to give a grand fair in the unfurnished portion of the Temple. The Masonic ladies of the city and their friends are asked to be present.

Mr. Mose Read, proprietor of the Central house, Bluffton, was in the city to-day, to see his father who is quite ill at his home out on the Bluffton road. Mr. Read carried home with him a powder horn just 105 years old. It is an old revolutionary affair that the family pride in handing down from age to age.

The city council of Huntington met Saturday and rejected all the electric light proposals save that of the Jenny company, of Fort Wayne. The council meets again Wednesday to act on the Jenny bid and it is probable the famous Fort Wayne spark will be adopted. The Bass foundry will provide the motive power.

Master Mechanic Barnes, of the Wabash, was in the city yesterday and said that next Sunday he would carry a big party of Fort Wayne people to Peru, behind engine 1051, which will have his celebrated spark arrester and smoke consumer attached. The train will be a special and this week invitations will be sent to the gentlemen whom it is desired to have on the trip. THE SENTINEL is personally asked by Mr. Barnes to send a representative.

Supt. W. W. Worthington is at Cincinnati.

Mrs. Frank Chapman has opened a millinery store on Broadway.

Rev. Dr. Talmage preached yesterday at Columbus Ohio, to thousands.

Thirty-one quick delivery letters were handled in the Fort Wayne post office last week.

Dr. Yocum will give a lesson in mental science on the day following Christmas at 1:30 p. m.

The Wabash management is figuring to give better passenger service between Fort Wayne and Indianapolis.

The Wabash pay car arrived here this morning at 10 o'clock. The men got their wages for the month of October.

Mrs. W. Rowe has been granted a permit to erect a one story frame house on lot 352, Hanna's addition, to cost $200.

The president's message will be delivered to the senate to-morrow, and THE SENTINEL will publish the message to-morrow evening.

At 7:30 this morning the thermometer was five degrees below zero at Meyer Bros' drug store, and one degree below zero at Thieme's drug store.

The Wabash will be asked to concede something of its percentage in the Indianapolis tripartite pool, as the company has lost a number of its branch lines.

Charley H. Aiken was buried to-day. Mr. Aiken is remembered as the driver of the United States mail wagon, and has been in delicate health for some time.

Councilman Doehrmann received a telegram from his brother, who lives in Wabash county, Ill., announcing his serious illness, and he left at noon to-day for that place.

The cold weather interfered with travel on all the railroads. On the Pittsburgh freight and passenger trains were all greatly delayed. There were no wrecks, however.

The Princess Polo team will play the Pavilions of Van Wert Wednesday evening. This will be a match for blood and will inaugurate the winter season at the popular Princess rink.

The R. R. Y. M. C. A. cottage meeting will be at D. F. More's, 32 Brackenridge street on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock standard time. All railroad and factory people in the vicinity cordially invited.

The trial of Lew Oliver and Jake Morvilius, for gambling, was postponed until next Monday. Justice France will then hear the case if the prosecuting witness, Geo. Chapman, is discovered.

Mr. Charley Bookwalter will shortly resign his position as city editor of the Gazette. It is probable that Mr. T. P. Keator will succeed Mr. Bookwalter on the Gazette, the columns of which he formerly adorned and made sprightly.

J. H. Sedgwick, of Indianapolis, is in the city in the interest of the American Sunday School Union. Mr. Sedgwick is soliciting aid to advance the cause, and in the spring will return here to give his attention to Sunday school work in Allen county.

John H. Pranger to John A. Pranger, jr., lot 32, College addition, for $700; Mary E. Shaw to R. and M. J. McCurdy, lot 93, North Side addition, for $2,000; Bass and Hough's addition has been platted and divided. These are the real estate transactions.

About twenty-five of the Catholic clergy of Fort Wayne and neighboring towns, will assemble in conference at the Library Hall parlors on Wednesday afternoon, next. The meeting will be attended by Bishop Dwenger, and some very able papers are expected to be read by distinguished clergymen.

The Mutual Protective association, Patrons of Husbandry, is getting some notoriety. Its promoters are quarreling among themselves, and Wellington McCulloch, of this city, has sent a statement to the Cincinnati Enquirer exonerating the association from the implications of an angry Buckeye stockholder.

Charley Schirmeyer was sworn in this morning in place of Joe Lumbard, who has long been a mail carrier. Mr. Schirmeyer is a brother of Louis Schirmeyer, of the Banner Clothing house and the people of the Fourth ward signed a very strong petition for the new mail carrier's appointment. Mr. Lumbard quits with the best of feeling.

Mr. W. W. Rockhill, the city clerk, is quite ill with an attack of malarial fever. He was somewhat better this morning, but will not be at his office for some days. City Treasurer Berghoff will act as clerk at the council meeting to-morrow night. This is the first time Mr. Rockhill was ever absent from a council meeting and his genial face will be missed.

The state of Indiana and Lucy A. Phillips, administrator de bonis non of the estate of John Phillips, deceased, vs. Joseph B. Fry and Lillian Baker, complaint on bond, $2,000. W. P. Breen is attorney for the claimant. First National bank, of Huntington, vs. Wm. D. Ruhle; note, $75. Randall & Vesey are attorneys for the claimant. These new suits are in the circuit court.

IN HIS HONOR.

The People of Fort Wayne Pay Their Respects to Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks.

In all the storm and blinding snow hundreds of people proceeded to the Masonic Temple yesterday afternoon and there assembled to pay their last respects to the memory of Indiana's illustrious statesman, Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks.

The auditorium wore its garb of sorrow. Folds of erape hung in front of the stage and reached the boxes on either side. A picture of the lamented vice president hung in the midst of the rostrum, while the stage appointments were emblematic of the occasion.

In well chosen words Hon. F. P. Randall convened the meeting, and Rev. W. H. McFarland invoked divine blessing. Col. R. S. Robertson, Hon. W. G. Cole, Hon. R. C. Bell, Rabbi Israel Aaron and Mr. W. P. Breen were the speakers, Judge Allen Zollars, Hon. L. M. Nible, Rev. W. N. Webb and Mr. S. R. Alden having sent regrets.

The life of the dead statesman was followed from his advent into public life to the vice president's chair. How successful, how careful and how faithful he discharged every trust, the speakers told with truth. His few faults were obliterated and his virtues, his nobility and grandeur of character were painted with rare beauty. His christian life, his clean, honest record and amiable way, were held up as worthy of imitation and unexampled in history.

The orators were most choice and elegant in their eulogies. They were careful in their word pictures and did but justice to the memory of the nation's statesman and Indiana's illustrious son. The addresses were short, pointed and altogether the nicest, neatest and most appropriate ever listened to. This was the universal verdict of the assembled listeners.

The music was a feature of the occasion. The Haydn quartet feelingly rendered two numbers and the Baptist choir sang church hymns very sweetly. The city band softly gave a dirge and hymn, after which Rev. Bacher gave the benediction and the multitude returned to their homes, with the knowledge and assurance that Fort Wayne did her share to commemorate the memory of one loved as no man in Indiana ever was loved before and maybe never will again. The Haydn quartet was composed of Messrs. Lang, Yarnelle, Olds and Worden. The Baptist choir was Messrs. Olds and Worden, Mrs. S. A. Northrop, and Mrs. H. N. Goodwin, Miss K. B. Woodman accompanied them on the piano.

PETTY THEFTS.

The City Mills Raided by House Breakers--A few Overcoats Appropriated.

Saturday evening, while the inmates of the Hamilton house were at supper, a sneak thief entered the residence and stole an overcoat belonging to Mr. W. H. Jones. The fellow took a jewel case and some worthless trinkets, and a purse holding a few pennies was also missed. In addition to young Maguire's overcoat recovered last week, the police have recovered the coat stolen from a printer whose name they cannot recall. These thefts are committed in the evening, when the marshal and his men go off duty and before the night police report. The most daring raid yet recorded occurred early last evening. Thieves broke into the City mills and going to the office broke the cash drawer to pieces. The fellows got no money, but this does not lessen the magnitude of the job. The police are unusually active and Captain Diehl, Marshal Meyer and Sheriff Nelson are exhausting every means to run the rascals down.

THE MARKETS.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The stock market opened with first prices very irregular and feverish and generally $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. higher. During the first hour there was a slight decline which was recovered shortly before 11 o'clock. At 11 o'clock was moderately active at prices about the same as opening figures. Money nominal at $\frac{2}{3}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. Wheat opened heavy and $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ lower, with moderate trading. No. 2 red, December, 96 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 97 $\frac{1}{2}$. Corn, $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ lower and moderately active. Mixed western, 40 to 54 $\frac{1}{2}$ c.

Senator Voorhees Kollides Congress of

tional Capitol.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The senate was called to order at 12 m. After prayer,
Mr. Edmunds nominated Senator Sherman for president of the senate. Mr.
Voorhees moved to substitute the name
of the vice president, who by the constitution is also declared to be president of
able to discharge the duties of his position, more experienced in the rules and
house of representatives of the organiza-
the organization of the house.

Mr. Callom presented the credentials of Mr. Logan's re-election, from Illinois;
Mr. Pike presented those of Mr. Blair,
were read and both were sworn.

order. The clerk of the house of repre-
pointed by the senate.

Mr. Voorhees then offered the follow-
the saddest duty of his public life:

of the death of Thomas A. Hendricks,
late vice president of the United States, and for number of years a distinguished member of this body.

propriately commemorated.

tives.

Mr. Voorhees asked that the resolu-
subject to be called up at a future day of which the senate should have timely notice. The resolutions were accordingly laid on the table.

Mr. Harrison then moved an imme-

order by J. R. Clark, its clerk, who called the roll of the members elect. The roll disclosed the presence of 320 members, the only absentee being Mil-
Carolina; Aiken, of South Carolina; Cary, of Texas; and Crockett, of Virginia.
Mr. Tucker presented the name of James
O. Carlisle, of Kentucky, for speaker.
Mr. Carlisle, of Kentucky, nominated

of the vote was: Carlisle, 177; Reed, 138.
speaker to the chair.

presented by Mr. Tucker, while Mr.
vote.

On taking the chair, Mr. Carlisle
knowledged the magnitude of the com-
senate committee to wait upon the president.

bling of congress, and the consideration
session.

Phil Sheridan.

and Inspector (Gen) Baird arrived in the

Mr. John T. Rodabaugh, the Attorney, Divorced From
His Wife.

ly a pupil at the Conservatory of Music.
been obviated by the fact that Mr.
heard the evidence of Mr. Rodabaugh,
baugh's second wife.

Indianapolis Division.

the Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago,
Davis.

is equal with Superintendent Stevens, of the Wabash, for an agreed price, and

held at 5:30 a. m. At the Cathedral St. Martins Bishop Dwenger will officiate at 10:30
preach.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

blizzard struck the city about half past
ued very high.

Captain Martin, keeper of the Minot
light houses in the world is so much ex-
the tremendous sea last week dashed fifty feet above the peak.

from stem to stern and their crew well out.

o'clock this morning, while other reports
buque, six below.

Shoreline, reported wrecked is safe at
that rocked her from stem to stern. Her bulwarks were in and at times the monstrous in five feet of water. All
eral times. Propeller Onondaga, due
not more than ten or twelve passengers.

Archbishop Purcell's Estate.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 7.—It is stated that
since the report of Assignee John B.
Marx was published in the case of Archbishop Purcell's estate, the discov-
Mr. Marx, who acted under instructions of the probate court. The stock
outcome of the above statement.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

of I. P. Mills & Co., located at the intersection of South Delaware street and
about 100,000 barrels of oil, and a quantity of oil, and a considerable
originated. The loss will exceed approximately $150,000, on which there is insur-

TEMPERANCE.

vention.

Twelfth district, W. C. T. U. con-
order by the president, Mrs. Shulze, of Kendallville, but in consequence of the

by Mrs. Omy, of Maysville, then followed the appointing of the usual com-
sion.

In the afternoon there was a full re-
ham, of Columbia City, a cordial address of welcome was given to the delegates by Mrs. Remington, of
allied at home, and was responded to
interesting and convincing measure.
tricts and planned by the organization,
on the advance during the past year.
Miss Swaine, the former president, who
again. The evening service began with appropriate songs by the choir,
thirty sang the song, "I will Try to Do
the pastor.

exercises by Mrs. Carnes, of Lagrange,
follows: President, Miss Hayden, of Larue; secretary, Mrs. Ross, of Kendall-ville; treasurer, Mrs. Fletcher, of Wil-coveville. The two last were re-elected.
After endorsing the resolutions the convention closed with singing and prayer.
The convention was held in the M. E.

A Kicker From Away Off.

through the city one day this week
self against an assessment of $13,000,
acres of land lying within the bounda-
which shall drain it into Little river.
Mr. Sweetser said he would gladly give
drained could be sold for a sum suffi-

Long Out in Illinois.

ment to come—and sold a book? Well,
I thought him a fraud. So perhaps did
a hard drinker for years, a bad drinker.
him trade—he is a splendid blacksmith—
wave!" says the Geneva, (Ill.) Patriot.

Athletes this fall and winter. I find that it gives good satisfaction and in one
Eldora, Iowa.

A TRAIN WRECKED.

The Passengers Burned and Maimed.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

senger train from Winnipeg, arriving
train by which they were traveling. On Friday last, upon nearing Ladbroke
stones being overturned set fire to all the

Lake City.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

ORLANDO, Dec. 7.—General Howard, early yesterday morning, received con-
an special train with batteries B and C of fifth artillery, and placed in readiness for marching orders ten companies
mons, who were accused at the shooting of one McMurray by Deputy United

says: "All is quiet, and there is no prob-
ample as the troops stand in the city.
General Crook, in reporting the threatening situation here, and getting authority to station troops in the city, have removed all apprehension for the present.
McMurray, who was supposed to be fatally shot by Deputy Marshal Collins,
is recovering."

A Big Fire—Accidents.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

night a fire was discovered in Cribben & Sexton's stove warehouse, a five-story brick building on the corner of Erie and Townsend streets, filled with stoves.
Loss, $200,000; fully insured.

Two fireboats collided. When the rear wall fell into the alley John Hanson and Ed Culmore, both fire men, were injured, the latter suffering a serious case of the leg.

A Soldier in Mexico.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

St. Louis, Dec. 7. A dispatch from Saltillo, Mexico, says that General Stanley, commander of the department Texas United States army, arrived there Saturday last. Yesterday he was tendered a reception under the direction of General Cervantes, military governor. It is not stated what his mission is to Mexico.

A Death Trap.

MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE, Dec. 7.—At the new Cotton apothecary this morning at about No. 3, four men were killed and one fatally injured by the falling of a cross beam, or "billy," as it is called.
The beam fell a hundred feet upon their heads.

Two Years in the Penitentiary.

THE CITY.

Harry Medsker, the confectioner, was at Huntington Saturday.

Superintendent Stevens went east in a special car this morning.

Water works pipes were frozen up in numerous places last night.

The water works trustees met to-night and the city council meets to-morrow night.

Mr. Calvin Brice, of Nickel Plate fame, went west via that road, yesterday, in a special car.

A gray horse dropped on Court street to-day and it required a derrick to put the animal on its feet.

The funeral of Mrs. Patrick McGee occurred yesterday afternoon and was very largely attended.

Miss Mamie Collins, of 31 Baker street, will shortly visit Florida, for her health, which is very poor at present.

Weighmaster Ryan collected $100.10 on the city scales for November and he has paid the amount to the city treasurer.

J. P. Fairley will open a new saloon at Nashville, this evening. Fred C.
Boltz and Harry Hammill went down to see their friend.

There are no attractions at the Academy this week. The coming card is a glove fight, Dec. 18, and Whitfield bows to Fort Wayne Dec. 21.

There are more saloons than grocery stores and three times as many liquor places as there are dry goods and clothing stores in Fort Wayne.

Guest Fox, the gardener, will Jan. 1, engage in business with his brother, Mr.
Louis Fox, whose cracker and candy manufacture has grown to mammoth proportions.

The will of John Baker was filed today. Mr. Baker lived at Monroeville and leaves his property to his sons, Francis M., Sylvanus T., Wm. D. and Simon S. Baker.

There were two drunks at police court this morning. Patrick Duffly got twenty days and James Ellison, a hostler, got ten days. Two tramps who would not leave town went over.

The Daly's gave an enjoyable show to rather poor business at the Temple, Saturday night. The conception is rather robust and borders on the variety, but it is clean and amuses for an evening.

"Muggs Landing" is the next attraction at the Temple. Miss Frances Bishop is the star, and as the play was seen here once before, it needs little explanation.
The comedy-drama is booked for Friday evening.

The indications for the lower lake region, as reported by the weather bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL, are as follows: Fair weather, slowly rising temperature, westerly winds, becoming variable.

Marshal Meyer locked up eight tramps yesterday. The poor fellows were stiff with cold and one of them said he had eaten nothing for twenty-four hours.

The marshal fed the unfortunates and turned them out to roam this morning.
It is announced that George McKinzie, a popular Fort Wayne boy, is soon to wed a accomplished young lady at Columbus, Ohio. George is connected with the Neal house, at Columbus, managed by his brother, Mr. Frank Mc-Kinzie.

The fire department had a cold run last evening. Old Wise, who keeps a junk shop in the east end and lives on the Maumee road, grew alarmed at a blazing chimney and called the fire men out there. They made the idle run, some of the men in their shirt sleeves.

To-morrow evening a meeting will be held at Masonic hall, in the MacDougal block, for the purpose of making arrangements to give a grand fair in the unfurnished portion of the Temple. The Masonic hall of the city and their friends are asked to be present.

Mr. Mose Brad, proprietor of the Central house, Bluffton, was in the city to-day, to see his father who is quite ill at his home out on the Bluffton road.
Mr. Brad carried home with him a powder horn just 105 years old. It is an old revolutionary affair that the family pride in handing down from age to age.

The city council of Huntington met Saturday and rejected all the electric light proposals save that of the Jenny company, of Fort Wayne. The council meets again Wednesday to act on the Jenny bid and it is probable the famous Fort Wayne spark will be adopted. The Bass foundry will provide the motive power.

Master Mechanic Barnes, of the Washington, was in the city yesterday and said that last Sunday he would carry a big party of Fort Wayne people to Peru, Indiana, where he will have a big celebrated spark arrester and smoke consumer attached. The train will be a special and this week invitations will be sent to the gentlemen whom it is desired to have on the trip. THE SENTINEL is personally asked by Mr. Barnes to send a representative.

Supt. W. W. Worthington is at Cincinnati.

Mrs. Frank Chapman has opened a millinery store on Broadway.

Rev. Dr. Talmage preached yesterday at Columbus, Ohio, to thousands.

Thirty-one quick delivery letters were handed in the Fort Wayne post office last week.

Dr. Yocum will give a lesson in mental science on the day following Christmas at 1:30 p. m.

The Wabash management is figuring to give better passenger service between Fort Wayne and Indianapolis.

The Wabash pay car arrived here this morning at 10 o'clock. The men got their wages for the month of October.

Mrs. W. Rowe has been granted a permit to erect a one story frame house on lot 352, Hanna's addition, to cost $200.

The president's message will be delivered to the senate to-morrow, and THE SENTINEL will publish the message tomorrow evening.

At 7:30 this morning the thermometer was five degrees below zero at Meyer Bro's drug store, and one degree below zero at Thieme's drug store.

The Wabash will be asked to concede something of its percent ge in the Indianapolis tripartite pool, as the company has lost a number of its branch lines.

Charley H. Aiken was buried to-day.
Mr. Aiken is remembered as the driver of the United States mail wagon, and has been in delicate health for some time.

Connellman Doehrmann received a telegram from his brother, who lives in Wabash county, Ill., announcing his serious illness, and he left at noon to-day for that place.

The cold weather interfered with travel on all the railroads. On the Pittsburg freight and passenger trains were all greatly delayed. There were no wrecks, however.

The Princess Polo team will play the Patrons of Van Wert Wednesday evening. This will be a match for blood and will inaugurate the winter season at the popular Princess rink.

The R. R. Y. M. C. A. cottage meeting will be at D. F. More's, 32 Brackenridge street on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock standard time. All railroad and factory people in the vicinity cordially invited.

The trial of Lew Oliver and Jake Merriellius, for gambling, was postponed until next Monday. Justice France will then hear the case if the prosecuting witness, Geo. Chapman, is discovered.

Mr. Charley Bookwalter will shortly resign his position as city editor of the Gazette. It is probable that Mr. T. P.
Kestor will succeed Mr. Bookwalter on the Gazette, the columns of which he formerly adorned and made sprightly.

J. H. Sedgwick, of Indianapolis, is in the city in the interest of the American Sunday School Union. Mr. Sedgwick is soliciting aid to advance the cause, and in the spring will return here to give his attention to Sunday school work in Allen county.

John H. Pranger to John A. Pranger, jr., lot 52, College addition, for $700; Mary E. Shaw to R. and M. J. Mc-Curly, lot 93, North Side addition, for $2,000; Bass and Hough's addition has been platted and divided. These are the real estate transactions.

About twenty-five of the Catholic clergy of Fort Wayne and neighboring towns, will assemble in conference at the Library Hall parlors on Wednesday afternoon, next. The meeting will be attended by Bishop Dwenger, and some very able papers are expected to be read by distinguished clergymen.

The Mutual Protective association, Patrons of Husbandry, is getting some notoriety. Its promoters are quarreling among themselves, and Wellington Mc-Culloch, of this city, has sent a statement to the Cincinnati Enquirer ex-onerating the association from the implications of an angry Buckeye stockholder.

Charley Schirmeyer was sworn in this morning in place of Joe Lumbard, who has long been a mail carrier. Mr.
Schirmeyer is a brother of Louis Schirmeyer, of the Banner Clothing house and the people of the Fourth ward signed a very strong petition for the new mail carrier's appointment. Mr. Lumbard quits with the best of feeling.

Mr. W. W. Rockhill, the city clerk, is quite ill with an attack of malarial fever.
He was somewhat better this morning, but will not be at his office for some days. City Treasurer Berghoff will act as clerk at the council meeting to-morrow night. This is the first time Mr.
Rockhill was ever absent from a council meeting and his genial face will be missed.

The state of Indiana and Lucy A.
Phillips, administrator de bono non of the estate of John Phillips, deceased, vs. Joseph B. Fry and Lillian Baker, complaint on bond, $2,000. W. P.
Breen is attorney for the claimant. First National bank, of Huntington, vs. Wm.
D. Hubley, note, $75. Randall & Vasey are attorneys for the claimant. These new suits are in the circuit court.

The People of Fort Wayne Pay Their Respects to Hon.
Thomas A. Hendricks.

In all the storm and blinding snow hundreds of people proceeded to the Masonic Temple yesterday afternoon and there assembled to pay their last respects to the memory of Indiana's illustrious statesman, Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks.

The auditorium were its garb of sorrow. Folds of crape hung in front of the stage and reached the boxes on either side. A picture of the lamented vice president hung in the midst of the rostrum, while the stage appointments were emblematic of the occasion.

In well chosen words Hon. F. P. Randall convened the meeting, and Rev. W.
H. McFarland invoked divine blessing.
Col. R. S. Robertson, Hon. W. G. Cole-rick, Hon. R. C. Bell, Rabbi Israel Aaron and Mr. W. P. Brown were the speakers, Judge Allen Zolner, Hon. L. M. Noble, Rev. W. N. Welles and Mr. S. R. Alden having said prayers.

The life of the dead statesman was followed from his advent into public life to the vice president's chair. How successful, how careful and how faithful he discharged every trust, the speakers told with truth. His few faults were obliterated and his virtues, his nobility and grandeur of character were painted with rare beauty. His christian life, his clean, honest record and amiable way, were held up as worthy of imitation and unexampled in history.

The orators were most choice and elegant in their eulogies. They were careful in their word pictures and did but justice to the memory of the nation's statesman and Indiana's illustrious son.
The addresses were short, pointed and altogether the finest, truest and most appropriate ever listened to. This was the universal verdict of the assembled listeners.

The music was a feature of the occasion. The Haydn quartet feelingly rendered two numbers and the Baptist choir sang church hymns very sweetly.
The city band softly gave a dirge and hymn, after which Rev. Bacher gave the benediction and the multitude returned to their homes, with the knowledge and assurance that Fort Wayne did her share to commemorate the memory of one loved as no man in Indiana ever was loved before and maybe never will again.
The Haydn quartet was composed of Messrs. Lang, Yarnelle, Oble and Worden. The Baptist choir was Messrs.
Oble and Worden, Mrs. S. A. Northrop, and Mrs. H. N. Goodwin, Miss K. B.
Woodman accompanied them on the piano.

The City Mills Raided by House Breakers—A few Overcoats Appropriated.

Saturday evening, while the inmates of the Hamilton house were at supper, a sneak thief entered the residence and stole an overcoat belonging to Mr. W.
H. Jones. The fellow took a jewel case and some worthless trinkets, and a purse holding a few pennies was also missed.
In addition to young Maguire's overcoat recovered last week, the police have recovered the coat stolen from a printer whose name they cannot recall. These thefts are committed in the evening, when the marshal and his men go off duty and before the night police report. The most daring raid yet recorded occurred early last evening. Thieves broke into the City mills and going to the office broke the cash drawer to pieces. The fellows got no money, but this does not lessen the magnitude of the job. The police are unusually active and Captain Ditch, Marshal Meyer and Sheriff Nelson are exhausting every means to run the rascals down.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
New York, Dec. 7.—The stock market opened with first prices very irregular and feverish and generally 1/4 per cent. higher. During the first hour there was a slight decline which was recovered shortly before 11 o'clock. At 11 o'clock was moderately active at prices about the same as closing figures.
Money nominal at 2 1/2 per cent.
Wheat opened heavy and 1/4 lower,
